

COLUMBIA WINS ANOTHER RACE

Outstripped Shamrock in a Demon Home Run on Last Leg.

BREEZE WAS GOOD

End of Exciting Contest That Gives Americans Almost a Cinch on Cup.

WAS A GRAND FIGHT

Highland, N. J., Oct. 3.—The Columbia won the race. Columbia crossed the home line at 2:15:05 and the Shamrock at 2:16:23. This is the second race the American boat has won. The race for the cup is three out of five. The Shamrock will therefore have to win three straight if she expects to carry the cup to England.

Highlands, N. J., Oct. 3.—Fair and full winds give good promise for the re-sailing of the triangular race between the Columbia and Shamrock today. At eight o'clock the anemometer at Sandy Hook registered twenty knots while the sea was quite smooth. Both Barr and Sycamore this morning claimed that conditions favored their respective crafts so accordingly a race is in order, if the wind does not flake again.

An extra careful inspection was given to the rigging of both yachts this morning for today's breeze promises to strain every inch of it to the limit. Shortly after nine o'clock tugs were hatched on and the racers started for the light ship. Among the guests on board the Lipton steam yacht today were Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland.

A 30-Mile Triang Course

The contest between the two yachts today will be over a thirty-mile triangular course, the same as that attempted on Tuesday. Under the conditions of this, the second race the yachts will be sailed ten miles on each of the three legs of the course. It is the intention of the committee to sail the first leg to windward, which will make the other two a broad reach and a close reach, provided the wind does not shift.

Race on Consecutive Days

The New York yacht and Royal Ulster yacht clubs had a busy time of it last night complying with the request of Sir Thomas Lipton, backed by the assent of Mr. E. D. Morgan of the Columbia, that in the future the races should be held on consecutive days, not counting Sunday. In addition, there came the request from Mr. George L. Watson, the designer of Shamrock II, for a remeasurement because of his intention to take out the ballast before today's race.

Races Will Be Held Daily

On the first proposition an agreement was finally reached between the challenge committees of the two clubs for a race very day, but on the second Mr. Watson, after further considering the matter, decided to let it drop, and the yacht will sail today with exactly the same amount of ballast which she has carried in the previous races.

This will not prevent Mr. Watson taking out ballast at any time that he may wish, which, of course, the club is willing to permit at any time. If, however, after today's race Mr. Watson decides to take out ballast it is probable that there will be no race, as under the arrangement, either yacht is at liberty to decline to race on the next day.

Shamrock Had Best Start

At ten o'clock the Columbia, Shamrock and the committee boat arrived at the lightship and made preparations for the start. The wind had flattened a little when the tow lines were cast off but was still strong enough to worry the slower excursion craft that attempted to follow the races.

NO QUARTER FOR THE ANARCHISTS; HALLS AND MAILS CLOSED TO REDS

Mayor Harrison of Chicago, Gives Orders Not To Let Emma Goldman Speak—Isaak's Paper Barred.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—The United States government and the city authorities have joined hands to rid Chicago of the teachers of anarchy and their doctrines. The anarchists have lost no time in throwing down the gauntlet, and it has been taken up and flung back at them so vigorously that for the first time in years they have been brought to a realization of the full force of the sentiment against them.

Before the emblems of mourning for the dead president had been stripped from the city's buildings the anarchists obtruded themselves into the public mind with the announcement that Emma Goldman would deliver sentiments of sympathy for the assassin at a public lecture at Meller's Hall, assassin, referring to his deed as the North avenue and Sedgwick street, natural outcome of the conditions existing tonight. More than this, it was protesting against the address would be a scoundrel or later such an event must be the same as that delivered in Cleveland three months ago, by which the assassin was supposed to have been prompted by his deed.

Both of these attempts to flaunt the red flag of death and disruption in tion craft that attempted to follow the races. At ten fifty-five the warning gun was fired and the scrap between the skippers began. At eleven the starting gun was fired. It looked as if the Shamrock went over first.

Shamrock Held the Lead

With the lee rails awash for the first time the yachts bore away for the first mark. Shamrock held the lead. It was a rattling race and the excitement was intense. The boats followed each other like race horses, kicking the water from in front in cascades. At eleven forty six they neared the mark the Shamrock going around first at 11:47:20. Columbia 11:48:40.

The Correct Start was Shamrock

11:00:43. Columbia 11:01:47. The Columbia gained twenty-three seconds on the first leg.

Columbia Forges Ahead

As they tore along for the second mark the Columbia little by little cut down the challenger's lead, though the Englishman was still leading by over half a minute.

Shamrock went around the second mark in twelve forty-six and Columbia 55 seconds later.

Then began the grand fight. The Columbia footed along at a terrible clip and though the Shamrock was going like the American gradually cut down her lead.

At one o'clock the Columbia had caught Lipton's boat and a few minutes later shoved her nose ahead. The crowds on the shore began to howl like demons.

GIRLS DRIVEN TO SUICIDE BY LOVE

Twenty-Three Berlin Domestic Kill Themselves on Being Deserted by Their Soldier Lovers.

Berlin, Oct. 3.—The fondness for society displayed by the Kaiser's gayly uniformed soldiers is responsible for an unprecedented epidemic of suicides among Berlin domestics.

Within the past fortnight twenty-three housemaids and cooks have killed themselves on account of unrequited affection, twenty of them by drowning in the waters of the Spree. An official at police headquarters in explaining the circumstance today, said: "Annually about this season of the year many young men from various parts of the empire complete their terms of military service in Berlin. When they depart for their homes they leave behind scores of broken hearts and numerous unfulfilled promises of marriage. Never before, however, have so appalling a number of these daughters of the regiment sought to end their disappointment in death."

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—Henry W. Cramp of the ship building firm died this morning of pneumonia. Jerba Island, Africa, Oct. 3.—A Tuareg party was recently captured by a Tripoli caravan near Damergu in the Sahara desert after a severe fight and a heavy casualty. They secured a rich haul.

BARKER EXCEPTIONS FILED.

Case of Man Who Shot the Rev. John Keller to Be Appealed.

New York, Oct. 3.—A memorandum of the exceptions made by the defense in the trial of Thomas Barker in the Hudson county court in June for shooting the Rev. John Keller in Arlington on Feb. 3, has been filed with Judge John A. Blair of the Common Pleas court, before whom the case was tried.

Judge Blair will sign the list. Marshall Van Winkle and Albert C. Wall, who are making the appeal, expect to argue it in November and say they have good reason to hope for an order for a new trial.

Barker is serving a term of five years' imprisonment. F. E. King and wife of Detroit, Mich., are in the city. Mr. King will remain here for some time working on a contract for Thoroughgood & Company.

BAN PUT ON THE ASSASSIN'S NAME; G. A. R. MEN WILL NEVER UTTER IT

The Badger Veterans Are Admonished in General Order No. 4 from the State Department Headquarters—Request Will Be Obeyed by All.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 3.—In general order No. 4, issued from headquarters of the Department of Wisconsin, Grand Army of the Republic, at Madison and signed by A. H. DeGroff, department commander, and E. B. Gray, assistant adjutant general, these words appear:

"Our friend, or comrade, our president, is dead by the hand of an assassin whose name should never be pronounced by an American. Comrade William McKinley's earthly career closed at Buffalo, N. Y., at 2:30 a. m., Sept. 14, 1901."

Although none of the men who are prominent in local G. A. R. circles would admit yesterday that the "command" contained in "General Orders No. 4" should be taken literally, the fact is that the impression prevails among the rank and file of the G. A. R. that "orders are orders" and must be obeyed.

The truth is there is an atmosphere of melodramatic mystery surrounding the issue and the meaning of this "General Order No. 4." The official positions in the Wisconsin branch of the G. A. R. insist that Assistant Adjutant General E. B. Gray was simply indulging in an airy periphrasis when in the opening paragraph of order No. 4 he ordered the battle scarred veterans of the famous

A NEGRO ELOPES WITH AN HEIRESS

Pretty Waukegan White Girl, Aged Nineteen Years, Chooses Black Man for a Husband.

Waukegan, Ill., Oct. 3.—The elopement of a married negro and a pretty young white girl has come to light here.

Benton Kingsbury, a former coachman for Carl Morton, but lately with his wife, having charge of the Country club, and Miss Bertha Barr, 19 years old, employed at the home of W. C. Upton, are the parties. While it was known they were on friendly terms, it was not suspected that they were enamored of each other.

Last Thursday both left town, giving various excuses for their departure. Monday doubts as to where they were and what they were doing were not at rest on receipt of a letter from the woman in which was a picture of the two, and saying they were having a gay time, would never come back to Waukegan, and were then just about to leave for St. Paul.

Kingsbury's wife says she will make no effort to arrest and prosecute her husband. The woman, it has for some time been understood, was engaged to marry Harry Malloy, and is heiress to $2,000, which she will receive on her 21st birthday. Kingsbury is a tall, good-looking man and dressed well and was popular with the women of his race.

HAVE $9,000 FOR NEXT STATE FAIR

Secretary True Receives and Audits the Expense Vouchers—Proposed Improvements on Grounds.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 3.—Secretary John M. True of the state board of agriculture has received nearly all of the expense vouchers of the recent state fair and estimates that when all the bills have been paid that the board will have about $9,000 with which to launch next year's fair.

With outstanding bills amounting to about $100, the secretary today said that he amount of the funds on hand was $8,929.25. This includes the appropriation of the state which is $6,002.72 and yet intact. The state board will meet at the grounds in Milwaukee tomorrow afternoon to consider some unfinished business of the late fair and also decide on some of the proposed improvements of the grounds, among the latter being the half mile track which is not yet completed.

The date of the next fair will be decided at a meeting of the National Fair association next December.

GREAT SLAUGHTER OF RATTLESNAKES

More Than 24,000 of the Reptiles Killed in Three Western Counties the Last Season.

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 3.—Figures from the territory surrounding this city show that no time in twenty years have as many rattlesnakes been killed in one season as in 1901. In Vernon county 1,257 snakes have been killed, and the county has paid bounties to the amount of $613.50. In Crawford county 22,257 of the reptiles have been destroyed for which the county paid $1,121.59. In La Crosse county the slaughter of snakes is about 1,000.

GRAIN MEN BEGIN ANNUAL MEETING

Iowa's Governor Tells of the Great Increase of Trade—800 Delegates Gathered at Des Moines

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 3.—Fully 600 delegates from all parts of the country attended the opening meeting of the sixth annual session of the Northern Grain Dealers' association in the new auditorium here. Governor Leslie M. Shaw delivered an address of welcome on behalf of the state of Iowa, and in the course of his remarks said that, when the first bushel of wheat was transported by rail from the Missouri river to the Atlantic ocean, thence by ship to Liverpool, it cost 61 cents to market it. The transportation now costs 21 1-2 cents a bushel.

Within thirty months by reason of improved roadbeds, lighter grades, fewer curves, heavier iron, and larger locomotives, a single engine will haul not seventeen tons but 2,000 tons from the Missouri river to the Atlantic ocean where it will be loaded from the car direct to the ships carrying, not 2,000, but 28,000 tons, and the saving in expense of transportation and handling and water rates will insure the producer better prices and the consumer cheaper food.

DISCUSS HOME MISSION WORK

Congregationalists at Milwaukee Will Appropriate $18,000 for That Purpose During Coming Year

Milwaukee, Oct. 3.—The entire afternoon yesterday for the Congregational convention was devoted to reports on Home Missionary work. The president, the Rev. G. R. Leavitt of Beloit was in the chair.

The following officers were elected: President—Rev. George R. Leavitt, Beloit. Vice Presidents—J. O. Myers, Wauwatosa, and Rev. W. M. Ellis, Troy. Treasurer—C. M. Blackman, Whitewater.

Directors—F. J. Lamb, of Madison; G. H. Ray, of LaCrosse and F. J. Harwood, Appleton. The convention voted to raise $16,000 for home missionary purposes the coming year. The Sundays before and after Thanksgiving were recommended to the churches in the convention as the missionary rally days.

Secretary Carter's annual report showed a busy year, resulting in a deficit of $3,600.

The report of the treasurer, C. M. Blackman of Whitewater, was presented. Treasurer Blackman was elected to the office nine years ago when the annual meeting was held in the Grand Avenue Congregational church, Milwaukee, and has been re-elected every year since. The report of the auditor, W. S. Jeffris of Janesville, was also presented.

The morning session was devoted to a discussion of Sunday school work, which brought out many interesting opinions. Addresses were made by Miss Carrie Morgan of Appleton, H. J. Cunningham of Janesville, J. J. Maple of Milwaukee, Amos P. Wilder of Madison, W. E. Starr of Fond du Lac and J. M. Hawley of La Crosse. The convention voted against the proposition to increase the per capita taxation for convention purposes to 6 1-2 cents.

BOSTON HAS MORE WOMEN THAN MEN

Statistics on the Hub City Show That There Are 11,048 More Females Than Males.

Boston, Oct. 3.—Boston should be an attractive place for any young man looking for a wife. According to a bulletin just issued, there are 11,048 more females than males in the city, a surplus equivalent of .96 per cent in a total population of 560,892. And young men matrimonially inclined would better not delay, for City Statistician Hartwell says the disproportion of the sexes is rapidly disappearing, being considerably less than it was in 1895. Dr. Hartwell says that fewer girl babies are being born and fewer female immigrants are coming here.

MASSACRED SOLDIERS ARE FOUND: BODIES OF 45 AMERICANS UNBURIED

Filipinos Had Carefully Interred the Remains of Their Own Dead Who Were Killed at Balangiga.

Manila, Oct. 3.—A coasting vessel which has arrived here says that two companies from Teclaban, belonging to the command of Colonel Foote, lately reached Balangiga, the scene of the disaster to Company C, Ninth Infantry. They found the bodies of forty-five Americans unburied, including that of Captain Conzelle, who was bound with ropes and partly burned.

The Filipinos had carefully buried the bodies of their countrymen who were killed in the fighting.

The town, which was deserted, was razed by the Americans. Three companies of Macabebe scouts boarded a vessel tonight for Samar, but they are detained in port by a typhoon.

BRITISH SUFFER LOSSES

Gen. Kitchener Reports 33 Killed, 88 Wounded and 40 Missing

London, Oct. 3.—Lord Kitchener's official report of the results of De la Rey's attack on the British garrison at Moedwill last Sunday night shows that the engagement was much more serious than at first believed. The Boers were defeated at the end of two hours' fighting, but the victory was dearly bought, the British loss being two officers killed and fourteen wounded; thirty-one men killed and seventy-four wounded, and forty missing. Col. Kekewich, who had charge of the defense of Kimberley during the long siege, was in command of the British forces, and was himself wounded. The Boers are reported to have fourteen killed and 114 wounded. Moedwill is in the western part of the Transvaal, several hundred miles from the scene of Botha's attack on Forts Italia and Prospect, in which the British lost so heavily. A Pretoria dispatch says that General Delarey suddenly concentrated a thousand men and attacked Colonel Kekewich at dawn. The British casualties were heavy. The troops fought magnificently. The Scottish horse sustained the severest losses. Eventually the Boers were repulsed with heavy loss.

TESTIFIED TO THE BRAVERY OF SCHLEY

Lieut. Doyle Saw Him Before and After the Battle, and He Was Self Possessed and Eager.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Before the Schley trial opened this morning Mr. Rayner, counsel for the applicant, stated his belief that, in view of the rulings of the court on the subject, Sampson would not be brought into the case. Schley's counsel, however, was pleased of the fact that he got into the record the testimony of a witness who said Sampson arrived an hour and fifteen minutes after the Colon surrendered.

Capt. Sigbee resumed the stand to correct his testimony and Lieut. Doyle's direct examination was continued. He said the Brooklyn was in all the bombardments in June. The Spanish did not remain at their guns but as they withdrew they took snap shots at the Brooklyn. He saw Schley under fire during the bombardments and battle of July 3rd. He testified in answer to a question that Schley before and after the battle was as self possessed as any one could be under those circumstances.

POINTERS FOR MAN ON THE FARM.

It will not require very much stretch of imagination to see the town duds wearing potatoes instead of diamonds. They are getting almost high enough in price to wear them as pearls and other precious stones. It will be all right to joke on potatoes now, but there will be no joking when it comes to paying for the usual amount by the man who has them to buy. More farmers will buy potatoes this year than have done so for many years. One man living not many miles from where I do spent all of one night taking the advice I gave some weeks ago to save his potatoes. He rigged up his wagon so he could keep up a smudge on it and drove back and forth all night when the frost was threatening. His field is now nice and green while those of his neighbors are killed. He will be paid for the night's work and well paid at that.

The rural free delivery is yet in its infancy in many ways. Some of the wagons have been rigged up for carrying weather signals provided by the government, and we will not have long to wait before we can not only know when a bad spell of weather is coming, but we will know by signs when there has been a change in the market, or when some great item of news has passed. Not long since I was in a locality where the people had not yet heard of the death of the president, who had then been dead a day or two. Farmers who lived on rural free delivery routes knew it very soon after it happened. The fertile brain of the American will yet study many things that can be turned to advantage by the free rural system. Let improvement go on and let no man obstruct it in any way.

The United States will always be a great wheat producing country. It will matter but very little how low prices may go from time to time, or other farm crops advance, wheat will always be one of the crops the farmer will calculate upon in his operations. The wheat grower goes on year in and year out making arrangements for growing a crop of wheat. The average crop of fifteen or sixteen bushels is no longer an inducement to the wheat grower. He wants thirty or forty and is not satisfied unless he gets something near those yields. Growers are getting better seed, they are making better preparation for their crops and they are doing what they really have to do in order to get paying crops.

The farm roller is an implement that should be on every farm where winter wheat is grown and the owner should know when to roll and when not to roll. When a roller is used without understanding as to its operations it may be the means of doing a great deal of harm. So many farmers look upon an implement with which to crush clods and since they have none of them they have little or no use for one. When a roller is used in preparing wheat land it becomes something more than a clod crusher. It compacts the surface soil and firms the seed bed. When the particles of soil are made more compact, the soil is made so that capillarity is increased. Some wheat growers roll their ground and they don't know why, only that they get more wheat per acre.

Some farmers will have a double duty to perform this year. It will not only be a study for them to pull the stock through this winter, but some study will have to be given as to how the family is to be pulled through. Upon most farms vegetables that usually grace every cellar will be absent. Many articles necessary in every family will be high. The appetite will be keen and will hanker after those things that are scarcest and highest priced. It will pay to feed the boys and girls well this winter if such things as they like can be obtained. It will also pay to feed the stock well. It never pays to have "spring poor" stock on hand in the spring. Right here is a loss that often comes, for which farmers will make excuses. There can be no reasonable excuse for having poor stock or hungry children, even if prices are high.

The year following a severe drought is usually a productive one. Rain helps a plant by dissolving the materials about its roots so that it can get hold of the food, but at the same time these rains are helping in leaching the soil. Fertility is carried down or off the ground. During periods of drought water is rising all the time towards the surface to escape in the air and as it rises it brings up fertility from below and leaves it at the surface. The chances for a good crop are always good after a drought year.

Some of our best thinkers have been trying to study how to improve the country schools and it may be that the problem will be solved along the line of taking the city school into the country. Not moving the city school exactly, but a plan whereby the country can have as good a school as the city. Central graded schools will be established in some convenient place, and provision can be made for carrying the pupils back and forth to this school. In some of the eastern localities children are carried back and forth to these schools by trolley railways. The next generation will see automobiles or some other similar system put to use in carrying the boys and girls to school. I am always for better country schools. Anything that will make them better will have my approval and assistance.

Some opportunities for the American boy have passed away. There are opportunities on every hand for them and all the American boy needs is to lay hold of them and improve them. The right kind of a boy, with the right kind of stuff in him, will succeed just as well when land is selling for sixty or seventy dollars per acre as if it were ten. The advantages that have come with the improved price of land will help the American boy to grasp hold of what is in sight.

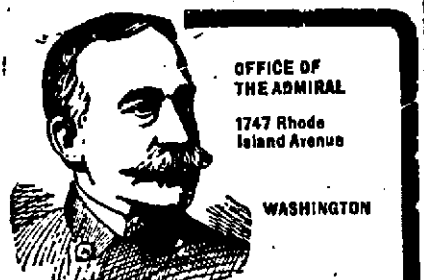

No one should think that just because it is fall that the fall plowing need not be done as well as that in the spring. It will no more pay to do a poor job of plowing in the fall than it will in the spring, or any other season of the year. The man who will cut and cover will plant out of season and let the weeds take what he has planted. It is the man as much as the plow.

Happy is the man who knows he value of mush and milk when the mush is made out of new meal. Happier still is the man who knows how to proceed to get some of the new meal. It can be done by grating or drying a bushel or so of grain and getting it ground. Mush made of new meal comes very near to hitting the right spot.

I have observed those who are always going to produce their own honey. At the time of year when they should be thinking of starting in the business, they are too busy to think about bees. In the fall when the groceries and stores stock up with nice honey, they resolve to get some bees. These people always get honey from the may-bes; that is, may be they will and may be they will not get some bees. Honey is a nice thing to have on the table, and it is just as nice to put on hot biscuits with butter.—The Wisconsin Farmer.

among the foremost in his occupation; and he added as the years went by quite largely to his possessions. He was one of the founders of Beloit college and the Soldiers' Home at Milwaukee.

He was a man eminently respected for his good, moral life; a good neighbor, a worthy citizen. Not an office seeker, he yet was honored by his friends with local and county positions, whose duties he ably discharged. Speaking of this husband and wife the county historian writes: "Noble and generous deeds have brought to them the love of many, and their character and benevolence have aided scores of people in need of assistance. Quietly and unostentatiously are their worthy actions performed."

At the good old age of fourscore and two years he "fell to sleep," ministered to by the hands of love. He leaves a widow in her sorrow at her loss, with other relatives and a multitude of friends.

The funeral services took place in the forenoon at the old home in Rock Prairie, on Monday, Sept. 23rd, conducted by the Rev. C. A. Hobbs, of Delavan, Wis., assisted by Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Richmond. The attendance at the service was large; old friends had come from near and far to offer this last token of their respect. And the body was laid to rest in the cemetery at Delavan, with beautiful flowers everywhere and a beautiful autumn day to whisper of brighter hope than that of the darkness of death.

A Pleasant Surprise Party

A pleasant surprise party was perpetrated on Ernest Allen last evening by eighteen of his young friends, who assembled at the home of his parents, 15 Chatham street, to assist him in celebrating the twentieth anniversary of his birth in a suitably happy manner. The occasion was a very delightful one and the young people enjoyed every minute of the festive time. One of the most amusing pastimes was the unwinding of an immense cobweb which had been constructed in the yard; the area which it covered being lighted with Japanese lanterns. Each guest took the end of a string in the center and followed it through many intricate entanglements until the other end was reached, finding some comical prize attached.

Other games, including cards and fortune telling, helped in making the time pass pleasantly, and during the evening a very appetizing supper was served. After supper the guests gathered round the piano and sang popular songs. Goodnight was said at midnight.

When you have no appetite, do not rellish your food and feel dull after eating you may know that you need dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at People's drug store and King's pharmacy.

Art League Ladies' Outing.

A merry party of ladies, armed with kodaks and sketching material, left this morning at 11 o'clock on the steamer Columbia, for a day's outing at the home of Mrs. Laura Burr, at Burr Springs. The ladies were a delegation from the Janesville Art League, an organization which has often been delightfully entertained by Mrs. Burr. After the pleasant ride up the river, the day was spent in taking snap shots and sketches of the picturesque springs. An elegant picnic dinner was served, and the ladies returned home late this afternoon well pleased with their last kodak party of the season.

STRONG KICK ON SOUTH JACKSON ST.

Property Owners Object to Having the Street Macadamized—Say It Does Not Need It.

The street assessment committee, consisting of Mayor Richardson, Chairman Fifield and Engineer Kerch, met in the council chambers yesterday afternoon and listened to the objections raised by the property owners on South Jackson street against having the street macadamized.

They first claimed that the street did not need macadamizing but needed a few repairs. They finally ground their complaint down to the point that in case the street was rebuilt they wanted the work of tearing up the street left until next spring.

They also claimed that widening the street as proposed would destroy all the beautiful shade trees which now line both sides of the street. A vigorous protest was made against substituting Berea stone curbing for cement on account that there was a fixed price on stone and no chance for competition.

The property owners also claimed that the street was not in bad condition and could be put in first-class shape by being repaired with crushed stone at the expense of the ward fund. This had been done all over the city and they could see no reason why certain streets should be discriminated against.

Those who were present at the meeting and put in a protest against the work being done were Dennis Hayes, W. H. H. Macdon, A. C. Wilson, Mrs. L. E. Burr, Mrs. F. S. Eldredge.

Mayor Richardson informed the petitioners that their grievances should be presented at the next session of the council and that they would have a chance to make further talk on the question. This committee did not have the right to pass upon the question but made their recommendation to the council.

The great trouble about this work has been, that under the head of repairs numerous streets have been put in as good condition as macadamized streets, which the abutting property owners had to pay for. These repairs were charged up to the ward fund and it is claimed that in doing this an injustice was worked on the balance of the residents of the ward. Mayor Richardson informed the petitioners that the rule about macadamizing and repairs was now being strictly adhered to and the council was doing away with allowing the aldermen to repair a portion of a street in a way that worked an injustice to other residents of the city that have had to pay for improvements of the street in front of their property.

Rev. Father Condon of Oregon spent yesterday as the guest of Dean E. M. McGinnity.

Our New Showings Winter Garments

ARE ATTRACTING WELL MERITED ATTENTION

For 30 days we have been showing the proper new things in automobile cloaks and jackets. The half fitted backs seem to strike the popular fancy. The castor and light tan shades are much favored, although oxfords and all black are receiving their share of attention. Red and brown meet with fair request, especially red for misses.

Three Quarter Lengths

are just now having the call. Thus far we have sold about 50 garments, enough to show the trend of the trade toward particular style. At $10, $12, $16 we are showing garments that hold their own in the face of the strongest competition.

Nobby Jackets

in red Kersey, oxford and black cheviots, stitched and trimmed. Exceptional values at 10, 12, $15.

Capes in long....

lengths are in strong demand; reds and tans are very stylish for evening wear. Large line of blacks. Have capes in plain fur trimmed, fur lined, &c. Our variety is great. Great plush capes for the money, short and long, plain or trimmed.

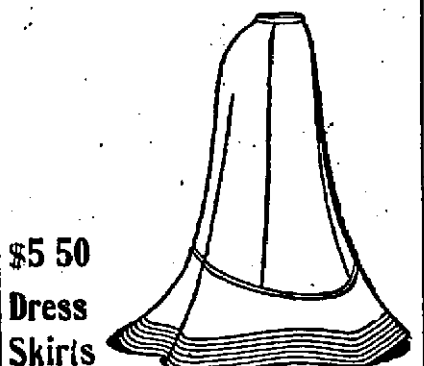

Full length garments being more extreme, will probably not have as general a sale as other styles, but no doubt, quite a number will be worn. We show them.

Don't Get Married

That is, do not feel that you have got to get married to a certain length garment whether it is becoming to you or not. Every woman cannot wear the same style. We aim to carry variety large enough so that it will be no trouble to find a suitable garment here.

Walking Skirts

Rack after rack of them. Look our stock over, then look around a little, you'll notice who leads.

Black, plain and pebbled cheviots, all sizes, all lengths, nicely trimmed with black satin bands, some with double graduated flounce; cannot be matched elsewhere.

Here can be found the most complete stock of skirts outside of the large cities. Also have walking skirts in all sizes for misses, in gray and brown meltons, lengths 30, 31, 32, 33 and 34 inches, stitched bottoms, patent lace placket, beautifully made at $3.50 and $4.50.

TELL OF THE FAMOUS LOOP

Brooklyn's Turn Detailed Before the Schley Court.

WATCH OFFICER TESTIFIES.

Part of the Log of the Brooklyn Introduced in Evidence—An Addenda Made by the Navigator—Why Doyle Changed the Entry.

Washington, Oct. 3.—The story of Admiral Schley's loop at Santiago has been told in greater detail before the naval court of inquiry than at any time before. It was Lieutenant James J. Doyle, watch officer on the Brooklyn, under Schley, who told the story. Admiral Schley had intended to have him called in his own behalf, but Judge Advocate Lemly summoned him first, and the questions which he was required to answer came from the hostile camp. As on preceding days, changes in official reports were much under consideration, but this time the changes were in the log of the Brooklyn itself. Lieutenant Doyle was thoroughly interrogated as to why it was that the log of the Brooklyn had first been written up to show that the helm had been put to starboard, which would have indicated a direct half-turn to the west, as would be natural in the pursuit, and then two days later had been changed so as to show that the helm had been put to port, and the turn made to the east. Witness insisted that the original entry was purely and simply an error on his part. The part of the log of the Brooklyn introduced in evidence was as follows: "At 9:30 went to quarters for muster and inspection, and immediately afterward the Spanish squadron was noticed coming out of the harbor. The leading ship, the Maria Teresa, flagship, opened fire at once. This ship (the Brooklyn) and the other vessels—namely, Texas, Oregon, Indiana, Iowa, Vixen and Gloucester, engaged the enemy at once. The enemy stood toward us at first, then put helm astward and stood along shore close in to the westward. We engaged with port battery at first, standing in for the Maria Teresa, the Colon and the Viscaya, all three of which we engaged, but just as soon as the enemy stood to the westward put helm to port, swinging. (A little interlineation here) clear of the fire of the Texas, so as to bring the starboard battery to bear and stood parallel to the enemy."

Vital Nature of Questions.

No charges or insinuations of any kind against Admiral Schley for his action were made by attorneys or witnesses, but the vital nature of the questions was uppermost in every thought, and when the lieutenant left the stand for the day it was evident that much more testimony on this line was to follow. The other new witness of the day as Lieutenant Commander A. M. Sharp, who commanded the Vixen during the blockade of Santiago. He also answered detailed questions about the loop as he saw it, but more time was given to trying to find out how it was that certain changes had been made in reports of the battle prepared on his ship, and whether those changes had been made on the Brooklyn or by him and his subordinate officers. Just before the adjournment for the day the court ruled that all questions concerning the blockade must refer to the time prior to July 1, when Commander in Chief Admiral Sampson arrived there. Thomas M. Deane was asked a few additional questions and Yeoman Gustave Becker finished his testimony. Lieutenant Commander Sharp was then called. He was first questioned about the possibility of coaling on May 26. "My vessel was not," he said, "in urgent need of coal on May 26. If it had been and I had received orders to coal I should have tried to do so, though it would have been an uncomfortable job, because the Vixen was a very small ship."

Captain Sigsbee was next put on the stand to correct his testimony, and the court asked him a number of questions concerning the conferences of commanders during the blockade. Mount 12:30 was then called, and the interest immediately reached a higher pitch. It was not until after some cross examination that Mr. Raynor announced that Lieutenant Doyle was to have been called for the "applicant" and obtained the privilege of questioning him as if on direct examination.

Lieutenant Doyle's Testimony.

In response to questions by Captain Lemly, Lieutenant Doyle said that during the battle off Santiago he had charge of the two waist turrets. He had, he said, written the log giving the account of the battle as there recorded, but afterward an addenda had been made by the navigator. When the Brooklyn steamed westward witness was first in the port turret and then in the starboard turret.

The witness stated that the original entry in the log had made it appear the helm was put to starboard instead of to port, as it appears in the permanent log. The change, he said, had been made on the 5th of July, two days after the action. Asked why he changed it, Mr. Doyle said: "I changed it after I had had a discussion with Sharp. I had been under the impression, as I have stated, that we had turned with a starboard helm. Sharp was aboard the Brooklyn on July 5 to luncheon with us, and I had a discussion with him that day on that subject. I think that is the time I changed it."

"Do you know whether the navigator had then signed the log as correct?" "I do not, sir."

"Why were the interlined words put in?"

"They were put in, I think—in fact, I know—at the suggestion of some persons, probably the navigator. They were put in evidently after the log was written up, because they are interlined."

"The effect of putting the helm astward, omitting the interlined words, in order to bring the starboard battery to bear, would be to send the vessel through not more than 180 degrees, would it not, in turning?" "Certainly, yes. We were headed about northeast, and that would mean more than 180 degrees."

Evans Returns to Stand.

Rear Admiral Evans again took the stand with the purpose of nailing the statement that he made a foolish boast as to what he did at the battle of Santiago. Schley's counsel asked him the other day if he did not tell Schley that he (Evans) destroyed the whole Spanish fleet. Evans at the time denied the report, which in a way placed him in the position of disputing Schley's word, as the inference was plain that Schley asserted that Evans did play the braggart.

"I have here a letter from Captain Cook," said he, shaking it at the court, "denying that I made the boast. Several years ago a local paper printed a story to that effect, and when I called on the editor to learn the source of the lie I was told that a woman had given him the information. Whether she was paid for it I do not know, but at that time I obtained this letter from Captain Cook of the Brooklyn, declaring the charge to be false. I would like to have this letter added to my testimony regarding the matter."

"We do not claim that you said that to Captain Cook," asserted Attorney Raynor. "My question was: 'Did you make that remark to Commodore Schley?'"

"Captain Cook was present during all my conversation with Commodore Schley," answered Evans, "and here is his letter denying that I made so foolish a boast."

Schley's counsel objected to the letter being introduced as evidence at this time, and Admiral Evans hobbled out of the room, not a little disgruntled.

Apologizes to Japan for Indignity Imposed on Official's Wife.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Very quietly the United States government has tendered an apology to Japan for an indignity imposed upon the wife of an official of that country. During the bubonic plague in the orient a steamer from Japan arrived at Honolulu and the officers made a rigid inspection of all passengers, especially of the Japanese, and the wife of the Japanese consul was among those thus treated. He complained to his government, which laid the facts before our state department, with the result that an apology was soon forthcoming. This government assured Japan that the discrimination against women of that country was made not for racial or national reasons, but because of geographical ones.

Rock Thrown Caused Death.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 3.—A special from Dillon, Mont., to the Dispatch says that W. S. Millsbaugh, at one time general attorney for the Southern Pacific railroad, died last evening from injuries received from a rock thrown by J. P. Blomberg, who had been discharged the day before. Millsbaugh was superintendent of the Stone Creek Copper Mining company, and had come here from Chicago the middle of July. W. A. Call, the only eyewitness to the incident, says Millsbaugh threatened to assault Blomberg before the latter threw the stone. Blomberg was arrested and taken to Virginia City for trial. Millsbaugh's body will be shipped to Chicago. He leaves a wife in that city.

In Memory of McKinley.

London, Oct. 3.—English ethical culturists are arranging a national memorial service in honor of the late President McKinley. The movement is under the auspices of the Hampstead Ethical Institute and will culminate next Sunday in elaborate exercises in its assembly hall in London. The principal address will be given by Prof. W. H. Hudson, late of the Leland Stanford, Jr., university. Ethical culturists say that while McKinley was a strong orthodox believer, his character and conduct made him dear to all champions of sound morals and high ideals.

Rogers Left $5,500,000.

New York, Oct. 3.—The official appraisal of the estate of Jacob S. Rogers, the locomotive builder, of Paterson, N. J., who left his millions to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, has been filed at the surrogate's office in Paterson. It shows that his estate is valued at a little more than $5,500,000. Double taxes will have to be paid on all the personal property, taxes alone depleting the estate by fully $500,000. Nearly $4,500,000 of the fortune is invested in the stocks of railroads and various other industrial corporations.

He has found it as represented.

He has absolute faith in its merit.

Mr. L. Lawrence, of 408 S. Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co. says:

"Seven years ago I injured my back by falling through a bridge near Aton, into the Rock River. I was on a traction engine, its weight broke through, and the whole thing went into the stream. Since that time my back has ached by spells, sometimes very severely. If I caught cold or settled in my kidneys and if I brought a strain on my back lifting, the result was a bad backache and sharp twinges of pain in my loins. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's drug store and after I used them I was free from backache. I am in better health than at any time since falling through the bridge."

STATE OF WISCONSIN—In County Court for Rock County—In the matter of the estate of Charles H. Belding, deceased.—In Probate.

On reading and filing the petition of O. P. Nowlin, administrator of the estate of Charles H. Belding, deceased, representing, among other things, that said deceased died seized of certain real estate therein described, and that it is necessary to sell or incumber the same to pay the debts of said deceased and praying for license to sell the whole of the same, and it appearing to the court that the personal estate in the hands of said administrator is insufficient to pay the debts of the said deceased, and expenses of administration, and that it is necessary to sell or incumber the whole of said real estate for that purpose:

It is ordered that said petition be heard at a regular term of said County Court to be held in and for said county at the court house in the city of Janesville, on the first Tuesday being the 5th day of November, A. D. 1901, at 9 o'clock a. m.

It is further ordered that this order be published at least three successive weeks before said day fixed for the hearing of said petition, in the Janesville Gazette, a Daily newspaper published at the city of Janesville, in said county, and that a copy thereof be served personally on Margaret Belding and John Cunningham, guardian ad litem of minor interested, and on all persons interested in said estate and residing in this county at least twenty days before said day.

Dated Oct. 1, 1901.

By the Court, J. W. SALL, County Judge.

EVERY-DAY LOYALTY.

The world is well represented by people who are waiting for an opportunity to do some great thing, inspired not so much by an ambition to win applause, as by the feeling that they are equal to emergencies.

It is easy to be loyal in an emergency that never comes along, but more difficult to be loyal in the everyday experiences of life. Easy to dream about courage and fidelity, when neither are demanded, but far more difficult to be brave and true in the numdrum routine of every-day existence.

It is easy to discover in a preacher whose utterances thrill on public occasions a great mind, with mental equipment and oratory to correspond, but not so easy to discover the same equipment and ability in the man who speaks to you every Sunday morning.

It is easy to discover bargains in the city market, and time and money is never lacking to make the trip, but the same bargains around home are not so easily discovered. This is not because they do not exist, but because loyalty to the home market is ignored and forgotten.

The Gazette is prompted to say a word about Janesville merchants, their loyalty to the town, and a corresponding loyalty to which they are entitled. Every line of business is thoroughly well represented, and every line is well advertised, except the hardware business. The representatives of this line were struck dumb, some six months ago, and a feeling of false modesty still handicaps them. They will recover in due time and have something to say about still being in business at the same old stand.

Janesville is the best market in the world, for Janesville and Rock county people. Young people who are about to marry will have no trouble in furnishing a cottage, or a mansion, from stocks that would do credit to any city. When the first baby comes, cabs and carriages may be obtained at prices to suit any kind of a pocket book.

As the family increases they can be shod and clothed in Janesville as well as in any city in the land.

If wealth rolls in and horses and fine equipment are in demand, the Janesville market is unsurpassed. When you are ready to shuffle off this mortal coil, there is no lack of suitable paraphernalia, to prepare your remains for their last resting place and transport them thither in decency and order.

Janesville is all right in every particular. Her merchants and business men are public spirited and enterprising. They believe in the town and work for prosperity.

They deserve more loyalty in the way of home patronage than they receive. If every citizen could realize that the next best thing to individual success is the success of your neighbor, and work for the double purpose, every industry would thrive, and the home market would rank as the best market.

TROUBLE IN THE PHILIPPINES.

While quiet has reigned throughout our new possessions since the capture of Aguinaldo, late developments indicate that the rebellion is not entirely subdued. The little town of Balangiga, on the island of Samar, one of the group known as barbarous, and never under the control of Spain, was the scene of a bloody massacre.

A company of American troops, seventy-two in number, was surprised while at breakfast, and all but twelve of them murdered. This renewal of hostilities and outbreak by a rebel tribe has no more significance than would a similar outbreak in this country possess.

While it means loss of life, and the slaughter of brave American soldiers, which is a cause for profound regret, it does not mean the renewal of general hostilities, and will only result in greater vigilance in the outlying districts.

The work of civilization is progressing slowly but steadily in the Philippine Islands. Aguinaldo expresses loyalty and the prominent leaders are no longer a disturbing element. Schools are being rapidly established in Manila, and the inhabitants of this and other important islands are becoming acquainted with American methods and motives.

It is not at all surprising that in a group comprising 1,400 islands, some of them populated by people whose instincts are on the order of the brute creation, that much time and patience will be required to introduce the first principles of civilized life. The task forced upon the American people is arduous, but the work cannot be neglected. The march of Christian civilization is ever forward, and the missionary field thrown open to the nation as the result of humane war, should be thoroughly occupied. That it will be is no longer a debated question.

THE MINORITY REPORT.

Judge Gilson of the tax commission, refused to join his colleagues, George Curtis and Nils P. Haugen, in the tax report recently issued. Judge Gilson takes the very sensible ground that while the literal interpretation of the new law might warrant the assessment of all property at actual valuation, that in his judgment it did not contemplate market value.

He also realizes the injustice of the one mill school tax as applied to increased valuation and says that an effort was made in both houses of the legislature to fix a limit on this source of revenue for school purposes. In the house the bill provided for a fixed appropriation of $650,000, while in the senate the amount was increased to $850,000. Both bills were killed, and as a result the school fund is increased over $800,000 through the workings of the innocent one mill tax.

The people have a right to ask why this increase is necessary. If the school system has been supported at an annual expense of some $650,000, why is $1,400,000 needed for next year? There is something rotten in Denmark? when this sort of legislation is tolerated.

If the schools need a million dollars or whatever amount for annual support and improvement, the state officials in charge of them should be compelled to submit a carefully prepared budget, estimating every dollar of proposed outlay, the same as is required of state institutions, and, every other department of government.

There is no reason why the men who are trusted with the management of the public school system, and who have the spending of public money, should not be compelled to observe the same common sense business principles that the state demands of every other class of agents.

The fact that a board is composed of college graduates, should not entitle it to special privileges. The people have as much right to know in detail, the estimated expenses of the university, as of the state prison. The same tax payers support both institutions.

The next legislature should abolish the one mill tax. While the state university does not share in this tax, the normal schools do, and the educational system of the state is the sole beneficiary. The tax payers of the state are inclined to be liberal with state expenditures, and they are entitled to all the knowledge concerning proposed taxation that the agents of the state can furnish. The last legislature devoted too much time to primary law phantoms, and too little to important business. Judge Gilson, while in the minority, so far as the board is concerned, will be endorsed by public sentiment in his attitude on taxation.

Evening Wisconsin: A man died in Catskill, New York, last week, who had his stomach removed by surgeons fourteen months previously. He was not informed of the fact that the organ had been removed, and probably had his stomach aches and gastric disturbances as formerly. This story still further relaxes the stomach's hold upon a time honored job that may eventually prove to be a mere secumre.

Green Bay Gazette: Lord Kitchener wants permission to hang traitors and murderers without definite orders from London. Kitchener's intentions are all right, but the serious question with him seems to be how to capture the traitors and murderers before hanging them.

Racine Journal: The Oregon state primary law was declared unconstitutional because it tried to do too much. The trial judge declared it a fatal defect that the law put it out of the power of a political party to control in whole or part its nominative action.

La Crosse Republican-Leader: There is no occasion for the Hon. John C. Spooner to say a word. The people of Wisconsin as well as those of the country, have spoken for him.

Milwaukee Sentinel: On the whole Mr. J. G. Woolley appears to be about the woolliest product of the wild and woolly west.

Ashland Press: How Now? Will those republicans who have been booming John C. Spooner for the presidency turn in now and boost him for the senate? If he is presidential timber wouldn't he make a pretty fair senator for six years more? The assassination of the president has changed things.

Ormo Herald: It is reported that Governor La Follette is in very poor health. He cannot take any solid food, and is but little more than a mere skeleton. That doesn't make any difference, however, with his fool friends, who are still harping on the primary election bill and the organization of a republican league which has for its purpose the unification of the party.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Had E. L. Philipp declined to unite with the Milwaukee Republican League, he would have been a patriot, as he was last year when he aided in the nomination of Governor La Follette.

FIRST MEETING OF THE ATHENA CLASS

Pleasant Entertainment at the Home of Mrs. Lee Beers Yesterday Afternoon.

The first meeting of the Athena class, held at the suburban home of Mrs. Lee Beers north of the city, yesterday afternoon, marked a new departure in the work of this class of ladies. The class has always held its meetings strictly for business and the study of history, for some time the members of the class have felt that it would be for the best interests of the organization to devote a little time to the cultivation of sociability. At the annual business meeting, the last meeting of last year, it was voted that three meetings of the year should be followed by some form of entertainment, furnished by ten members of the class. The membership of the class includes thirty ladies and they have been divided into entertaining groups according to the alphabetical list of names. The hostesses of yesterday were Mrs. Charles Atwood, Lee Beers, W. H. Blair, O. H. Brand, S. C. Burnham, David Conger, Mary Crosscut, J. A. Denniston, C. L. Field and Miss Flora Danwid.

Mrs. Beers, being a member of the committee, offered her home as the place of entertainment and this added much to the afternoon's enjoyment. The pleasant drive to and from her home and the convenient arrangement of the cheerful and artistically furnished rooms, gave the most favorable environments for the afternoon. As soon as the guests had assembled, Mrs. Charles Tarrant, president of the class, called the session to order and a brief business meeting was held. Routine business was transacted and the calendars of the next two years' study in French history were distributed. Several members of the class signified their intention of attending the state convention of Women's clubs to be held at Madison next week.

After the business meeting, the ladies found pleasant and profitable entertainment in guessing the titles of books from cards illustrating the titles, which were hung up in various parts of the rooms. In this contest Mrs. E. L. Loomis proved most proficient. The delicious two-course luncheon prepared for the entertaining committee, was prettily served at daintily laid tables. Mrs. Beers provided a pleasant surprise in the form of pretty souvenir cards, bearing appropriate quotations which were laid at each plate, a white flower being tied to each card with white ribbons. Before the guests rose from the table Mrs. Beers also distributed slips of and the guessing of these furnished much amusement. The entire afternoon was one of delightful informality and sociability and the meeting was certainly the most enjoyable one ever held by the class. The ladies returned to their home in the early evening.

The next meeting of the class will be held in the East Side Odd Fellows' hall Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 15, instead of the following Wednesday in order not to conflict with the state meeting of the Women's Clubs which opens the 16th. At the next meeting the class will begin the study of French history.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

Old songs are sweetest; old loves dearest. The hand that spans the child rules the world.

A fisherman's luck is measured by a fisherman's lies. The chickens which come home to roost generally have lost their tail feathers.

In our youth we dream of what we shall have accomplished in our age; in our age we dream of what we might have accomplished in our youth. When a man goes to tell his father he is engaged he couldn't look more sheepish if he were telling him he had been caught robbing his neighbor's chicken coop.—New York Press.

PHILOSOPHY OF THE STREET.

Man seldom notices that things are scarce until he needs them.

The easiest way to manage a woman or a man is not to let them know it.

Those who remain single miss lots of fun even if they do escape responsibility.

Fads are like fungus and vines, to the extent of damaging; if not killing, that to which they cling.

FATHER GOEBEL IS MADE EXECUTOR

Will of the Late Father Strickner Leaves All His Property to His Housekeeper.

Rev. Father W. A. Goebel will serve as executor of the will of the late Rev. Father George Strickner, of Monroe, whose remains were brought to this city for interment last week. Father Goebel was appointed executor by the terms of the will which was filed at Monroe yesterday. In his will Father Strickner names Miss Mary Richter, his housekeeper, as his sole and universal heir, settling forth that the testator is indebted to her for care and sacrifices toward him and for faithful services as housekeeper for many years. The will also states that she has received private instructions from him regarding some charitable gifts, and that she will carry them out according to his wishes. The value of the estate is estimated at $8,000.

LECTURE COURSE ASSURED SUCCESS

Grand Concert Tomorrow Evening—Sixteenth Season of the People's Lecture Course.

For fifteen years past the People's Lecture course has been giving to our citizens the very best talent to be had at a minimum cost and on tomorrow evening they open their sixteenth season which promises to eclipse all former ones. The attractions this year are of an exceptionally high order and are worthy of more than ordinary notice. The opening number is The Star Grand Concert Company which opened the course at Elgin on Monday last and of which the Elgin Courier says, "The program was the best ever given here and the audience, which included the best musicians of the city, was well pleased." The company is composed of Electa Gifford, soprano; Estelle Rose, contralto; Myron E. Barnes, tenor; Sidney Biden, baritone; Leon Marx, violinist; and Katherine Hoffman, accompanist, and all are well-known in musical circles here.

The second number on the course is the great traveler and writer on wild animals, Ernest Seton-Thompson and Janesville people may well be congratulated in having the chance to hear him. His lecture is illustrated and in addition to the evening entertainment it has been arranged to have him give a matinee in the afternoon in order that the school children may hear him. A short time ago the local committee got word from Mr. Thompson's manager asking if he could be relieved from this date as there were so many applications for dates further east but as he had been advertised here it was out of the question and when so informed his manager replied that while he would like to be relieved he would, of course, live up to his contract and to go ahead with the arrangements. Another number on the course which is of unusual merit is Isabel Garghill Beecher, who will give one of her interpretive recitals. Mrs. Beecher is well known to some of our people and they are enthusiastic in her praise. She was at Delavan assembly this last summer and completely captivated all who heard her. Other numbers on the course are the Mozart Symphony club of New York who were here two years ago and made a most favorable impression, and Frederick E. Hopkins of Chicago, who, while he has never lectured in Janesville is well known by many here and it was upon the earnest solicitation of those that he was secured. Taken all in all this course is probably the best ever offered by this management and it certainly is a credit to this city that we are enabled to hear such attractions as these and at such a cost. These courses are not run for money, and as a matter of fact, none is made on them and when it is a labor of love it makes it all the more deserving.

Another Runaway Boy

Frank Doyle, a boy fifteen years of age, skipped out from Beloit a day or two ago and since that time no trace of him can be found by his parents. His step mother was in the city this morning in search of the young man. He is described as being of medium height with light hair and blue eyes. He had on a black suit with tan shoes and a tan colored cap. His father is employed in the Free Press office in Beloit.

Francis Murphy League

The members of the Francis Murphy Temperance League are making arrangements for their regular monthly meeting which will be held at the Y. M. C. A. building Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. W. A. Hall, pastor of the Court Street M. E. church, will give the principal address and there will be other speakers. Splendid music will be an enjoyable feature of the meeting which promises to be one of the most interesting the league ever held. A cordial invitation is extended to all men to be present.

A marriage license was issued today to Asa L. Maxon of Walworth and Mary E. Summerbell of the town of Harmony.

William Connelly, the partner of Herman Friday, who was before the municipal court on complaint of Carrie Johnson of Footville, who claims they did malicious injury to her house was before the municipal court yesterday. He pleaded not guilty to the charge. He was released on $150 bonds and will be tried Oct. 9 at 10 a. m. at the same Friday's case comes up.

The gold watch belonging to Miss Mary Rexford that was found near the street car tracks on Washington street by Chief Engineer Spencer was not the one that Ernest Byers tried to pawn at S. C. Burnham's. That watch is still at Burnham's and is not as good as the watch belonging to Miss Rexford.

R. R. Winston returned last evening, after a three-weeks visit in the east. He visited Rochester, Buffalo, Binghamton, Albany and other eastern cities.

Mr. Winston says the Temple of Music at the Pan-American exposition is closed most of the time and is only opened for a concert, and is then packed with people. The spot where McKinley was shot is enclosed in a railing.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Spence were pleasantly surprised last evening at their first ward home by a number of friends.

The occasion of the surprise was Mrs. Spence's birthday. A number of the choir boys of Trinity church were present and rendered several selections which added much to the pleasure of the evening.

Tempting refreshments were served and enjoyed by all.

LUNCHEON TO ROCK COUNTY TEACHERS

Janesville Public School Teachers Will Entertain the County Teachers on Saturday, Dec. 7.

A meeting of all the grade teachers of the city was held at the high school building yesterday afternoon and the teachers voted to give a luncheon on Saturday, December 7, for the visiting teachers of the Rock County Teachers association which will be in session in this city on that day. This is the first time that the teachers of the city as a body have ever entertained the visiting teachers to their homes although many of them have taken the visiting teachers to their homes for dinner. The new plan for the coming meeting is an excellent one and will give the teachers of the county a splendid opportunity of becoming acquainted with each other.

The luncheon will be served in the high school building at noon and will be prepared and served by the young girls of the high school cooking class. The expense of the luncheon will be borne by the teachers.

One of the most attractive features of the coming meeting will be an address given to the teachers by Miss Maude Summers, of Chicago, on "The Thought Element of Reading." Miss Summers is the author of a reader which is revolutionizing the study of reading in the public schools. She is a teacher of much experience and national reputation but now devotes her entire time to writing on educational subjects. She will speak on Saturday afternoon. Supt. H. C. Buell has also planned the High school lecture course so that William Hawley Smith's lecture will come on Friday evening, December 6, the visitors thus being given the opportunity of attending.

Grand Concert Tomorrow Evening—
Sixteenth Season of the People's Lecture Course.

For fifteen years past the People's Lecture course has been giving to our citizens the very best talent to be had at a minimum cost and on tomorrow evening they open their sixteenth season which promises to eclipse all former ones. The attractions this year are of an exceptionally high order and are worthy of more than ordinary notice. The opening number is The Star Grand Concert Company which opened the course at Elgin on Monday last and of which the Elgin Courier says, "The program was the best ever given here and the audience, which included the best musicians of the city, was well pleased." The company is composed of Electa Gifford, soprano; Estelle Rose, contralto; Myron E. Barnes, tenor; Sidney Belden, baritone; Leon Marx, violinist; and Katherine Hoffman, accompanist, and all are well-known in musical circles here.

The second number on the course is the great traveler and writer on wild animals, Ernest Seton-Thompson and Janesville people may well be congratulated in having the chance to hear him. His lecture is illustrated and in addition to the evening entertainment it has been arranged to have him give a matinee in the afternoon in order that the school children may hear him. A short time ago the local committee got word from Mr. Thompson's manager asking if he could be relieved from this date as there were so many applications for dates further east but as he had been advertised here it was out of the question and when so informed his manager replied that while he would like to be relieved he would, of course, live up to his contract and to go ahead with the arrangements. Another number on the course which is of unusual merit is Isabel Garghill Beecher, who will give one of her interpretive recitals. Mrs. Beecher is well known to some of our people and they are enthusiastic in her praise. She was at Dolan's assembly last summer and completely captivated all who heard her. Other numbers on the course are the Mozart Symphony club of New York who were here two years ago and made a most favorable impression, and Frederick E. Hopkins of Chicago, who, while he has never lectured in Janesville is well known by many here and it was upon the earnest solicitation of these that he was secured. Taken all in all this course is probably the best ever offered by this management and it certainly is a credit to this city that we are enabled to hear such attractions as these and at such a cost. These courses are not run for money, and as a matter of fact, none is made on them and when it is a labor of love it makes it all the more deserving.

It Happened in a Drug Store.
"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. H. Grandin, the popular druggist at Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." The remedy owes its great popularity and extensive sale to the personal recommendations of people who have been cured by its use. It is for sale by the Peoples' Drug Co. and Smith's Pharmacy.

A Woodard of Clinton was in the city yesterday on legal business.

No Time to Lose

You cannot afford to disregard the warnings of a weak and diseased heart and put off taking the prescription of the world's greatest authority on heart and nervous disorders—

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

If your heart palpitates, flutters, or you are short of breath, have smothering spells, pain in left side, shoulder or arm, you have heart trouble and are liable to drop dead any moment.

Major J. W. Woodcock, one of the best known oil operators in the country, dropped dead from heart disease recently at his home in Portland, Ind., while mowing his lawn.—The Press.

Mrs. M. A. Birdsall, Watkins, N. Y., whose portrait heads this advertisement, says: "I write this through gratitude for benefits I received from Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I had palpitation of the heart, severe pains under the left shoulder, and my general health was miserable. A few bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure cured me entirely."

Sold by all druggists.

TOLSTOI HITS ALLIANCE.

Says Franco-Russian Agreement is Likely to Work Mischief.

London, Oct. 3.—The Revue Blanche of Paris recently asked Count Tolstoi for his opinion of the Franco-Russian alliance and the Paris correspondent of the Times sends the reply received by the paper.

Tolstoi says that, in the first place, the true Russian people do not know of the existence of the alliance, but if they did they would have the common sense to understand that this exclusive alliance with another nation could not have any other object than to support it against its enemies and perhaps involve them in wars. Therefore the alliance would be displeasing to them.

Count Tolstoi says the object of such alliances is war or to menace war; that their influence must be mischievous generally and that they can produce only the greatest mischief to the nations forming them.

Treaty Expires in 1903.

Berlin, Oct. 3.—The government of Guatemala has notified Count von Buelow, the German Imperial chancellor, that the commercial treaty with Germany will cease to be operative on June 22, 1903.

CAREER OF P. G. GILLETT.

Famous Teacher of the Deaf Who Died on Wednesday.

Jacksonville, Ill., Oct. 3.—Phillip G. Gillett, for forty-five years superintendent of the Illinois Institution for Deaf Mutes, who died here Wednesday, had an international reputation as an educator.

Phillip Goode Gillett was born at Madison, Ind., March 24, 1833. He received his education at Ashbury (now De Pauw) University, Greencastle, Ind., and was graduated in 1852. On graduating he became a teacher in the Indiana Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, and in 1856 was made the principal of the Illinois Institution for Deaf Mutes at Jacksonville. The work of organization began at once, and soon the Jacksonville school was recognized as one of the leading educational institutions of the country. It was enlarged from time to time, and at present it is said to be in many respects one of the most complete in the world. It excels in literary, industrial and art instruction, and the teaching of deaf mutes in lip reading and vocal speech has been carried to a degree of perfection never before attained.

Cure for Asthma and Hay Fever.

The statement published below confirms the claim of Dr. Schiffman that he has now discovered an absolute remedy for asthma and hay fever. Mrs. Mary Zachary, Pleasant Hill, La., says: "I have found your asthma cure a perfect cure for asthma, for which I used it 7 years ago. I have never had the slightest return of the trouble since. I have also found your remedy excellent in bronchial affections. I shall ever have a feeling of gratitude for the benefit derived from your cure."

A hay fever sufferer writes:—"I have had hay fever for 14 years. I bought a package of your remedy (Schiffman's Asthma Cure), of our druggist and due to its use this is the first summer that I have not been troubled." Mrs. Frank Guilfoyle, 6237 Ridge avenue, Roxboro, Philadelphia.

If you want some "just as good" make it myself. Remedy, try an imitation Rocky Mountain Tea. It will make you sick and keep you sick. Smith's Pharmacy.

Samson's Flag Hauled Down.

Boston, Oct. 2.—Rear Admiral William T. Sampson's flag has been hauled down at Charleston navy yard, of which he has been commandant the last two years. Previous to its being hauled down it was saluted with thirteen guns, the rear admiral's salute. Rear Admiral Johnson will assume command tomorrow.

Reunion of 30th Illinois.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 3.—Memories of Drury's Bluff, Pittsburg, Fort Gregg and, finally, Richmond were recalled by survivors of the gallant Thirty-ninth Illinois Volunteer Infantry at their annual reunion, held at Leroy this county. This famous command, better known as the "Yates Phalanx," due to the patronage of Richard Yates, Illinois' war governor, participated in some of the bloodiest battles of the civil war and has a notable record. Fewer than 100 of those who fought through the memorable conflict are gathered.

Riddle Wants the Office.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 3.—Col. Francis A. Riddle, formerly attorney for the West Park Board and prominent in Grand Army circles, has announced himself as candidate for clerk of the Supreme Court of Illinois. This will be a state office after next year, for the law consolidating the divisions of the Supreme Court provided that after the terms of office of the three clerks expired there should be but one clerk.

Boy's Stab Is Fatal.

Pittsfield, Ill., Oct. 3.—John M. McCann, a well-known Illinois river steamboat engineer, who for the past few weeks has been filling the position of town policeman at Milton, this county, who was fatally stabbed last Saturday by Clyde Conrad, a 17-year-old boy, is dead. Conrad is in jail at this place and an inquest is now being held.

WOMAN'S POINT OF VIEW.

To listen to another woman's conversation frequently teaches you what not to say.

The more certain that a man feels he is in the wrong, the more absolutely sure he is to put the blame on his wife.

Now wouldn't this be a hard world if we were obliged to do all the things we tell other people we would do if we were in their place?

If a man and woman will not tell each other in love what they ought, they will be pretty sure to tell each other in anger what they ought not.

A girl doesn't have to be out of school long before she discovers that how to dress to make herself look pretty to some man is of more importance than a knowledge of how to solve the binomial theorem.—Philadelphia Times.

A Scotchman's Idea of Peace.

After this fashion does a Scotch farmer rebuke his sons for a recent fight: "Ye have been fechtin' again, ye blakes," thundered their father. "Mind ye, if this happens again I will break every bone in your bodies. I will have you know that I am a man of peace!" —S. R. Crockett in New Lippincott.

Dodging Poor Wine in London.

The London Lancet declares that "the prices asked for wine at big hotels are so monstrously high and the wine offered is so often bad that this fact alone accounts for an increasing demand for whisky as a dinner beverage."

Responsible Care of Children.

The family where the parents, through idleness or indifference, or self-indulgence, or vice, neglect to protect, to educate, or to train the children committed to their care, and the children, following such examples prove unfaithful and unprofitable, is wrecked as to its present happiness and future welfare.—Pennsylvania Grit.

Colonel Kekewich Wounded.

"Colonel Kekewich, who was slightly wounded twice, reports that all the ranks behaved extremely well. The reports of the enemy's loss at Itala and Prospect are confirmed. It is reported that 250 Boers were killed and 300 wounded."

A later message from Kitchener says that the two Royal Artillery guns which were captured by the Boers at Viakfontein have been recovered.

Grand-Niece of Ex-President James K. Polk. Writes to Mrs. Pinkham Saying:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been married for nearly two years, and so far have not been blessed with a child. I have, however, suffered with a complication of female troubles and painful menstruation, until very recently.

MRS. IDA L. ROSER.

"The value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was called to my attention by an intimate friend, whose life had simply been a torture with inflammation and ulceration, and a few bottles of your Compound cured her. I can do three times what I used to do. You have a host of friends in Denver, and among the best count. Yours very gratefully,—Mrs. Ida L. Roser, 325 18th Ave., Denver, Col."—$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free.

HAVE YOU SEEN HER?

Mrs. Ethereal is daily proving to the most skeptical of Janesville, that she can do all that she claims. All she asks is to be given a trial and satisfaction is assured.

There are ladies of this city who do not care to have their names brought before the public, who claim wonderful results from only two treatments.

Mrs. Ethereal don't treat everything, but cures all she treats.

She removes wrinkles, superfluous hair, warts, moles, etc. by electrolysis and other scientific processes. She treats the scalp for dandruff and falling hair. Give her a trial today, as no examination is the thief of time. Her dressing and manicure parlors in connection. Parlor 224-226 Hayes Block Wis. Phone 211. Office hours: 9 to 12 a.m.; 1 to 6 p.m.

FIX LIMIT TO PAY RANSOM.

Abductors of Miss Stone May Must Have Money Oct. 8.

Constantinople, Oct. 3.—The brigands who carried off Miss Stone, the American missionary, and her companion, Mme. Talika, a Bulgarian lady, have fixed Oct. 8 as the limit of time for the payment of the ransom, $11,000, demanded for Miss Stone's release.

The hiding place of the brigands has not yet been discovered, and the delay, according to the abductors is taken to indicate that they consider their retreat quite secure.

New York, Oct. 3.—The report from Sofia mentioned by the Vienna correspondent of the Telegraph throws a new light on the abduction of Miss Stone, says the London correspondent of the Tribune. There is every reason to believe that the chief of the band which carried the women off to the mountains was Hous Sarafon, the former president of the Macedonian committee at Sofia.

Miss Stone has sent two letters to the mission at Samakov, wherein she begs that the robbers may not be pursued. When they find themselves hunted they drag her from place to place, and as a consequence she is so fatigued as to be unable to walk any longer.

ASKED TO SAVE CZOLGOSZ.

Governor Odell Uris Letters Urging Executive Clemency.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Governor Odell arrived in this city from Newburgh and when he reached the executive chamber he was surprised to find on his desk two letters requesting him to commute to life imprisonment the sentence of Czolgosz, the murderer of President McKinley. One letter was sent by a man in Illinois and the other by a man in Maine. They were evidently written by cranks, in the opinion of the governor, and no attention will be paid to them. "You may be assured that nothing will be done by me," said Governor Odell, "to prevent the execution of Czolgosz on the day fixed by law." The governor also received a petition that the body of the murderer after electrocution be buried at sea. The governor understands that the body must be surrendered to the condemned man's relatives if they claim it after death and that they have charge of its disposition.

TRAIN SWEEPS THROUGH FIRE.

Narrow Escape of Cars and Engine on Denver and Rio Grande.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 3.—North-bound train No. 10, on the Denver & Rio Grande, which arrived in Denver on its run from Colorado Springs to this city, passed at full speed over a burning bridge at Doluca, a small siding between Littleton and Sedalia. The bridge is situated at the end of a cut in a curve, and was burning quite fiercely. The engineer could not see the bridge until the train was almost upon it. When the locomotive swept out of the cut, going at high speed, Engineer Frichmann saw the flames leaping up a foot above the rails over a space of ten feet. It was too late to stop, and across the bridge the train thundered at full speed.

The bridge is 128 feet long and over a gully forty feet deep. Across the bridge the train was stopped and men were sent back to put out the fire, but to no avail. The flames had gained too much headway, and in a short time the bridge collapsed.

Many Hunting Licenses

It is estimated that at least 75,000 hunting licenses will be issued this year in the state of Wisconsin. If the number issued comes up to the estimate it will be almost double the number issued last year, and means that the state will get about $67,500 to use in running this department. This will give them money enough to have a salaried deputy or two in almost every county of the state.

It is hard to explain exactly where this increase comes from, unless there were a large number of hunters last year who did not take out a license, or a big crop of young hunters have come to the front in the last two years. Another thing that may have stirred up the hunters to procure licenses is that fact that the deputy wardens have been very busy since the shooting season opened going around and asking to see the license of every man found pursuing game with a gun.

In many counties in the state the number of licenses issued this year is almost double the number issued last year. In Rock county so far there has been an increase of about 160 and at least one hundred more will be issued before the season closes.

STATE OF WISCONSIN. Circuit Court of Rock County. In the matter of the petition of the Wisconsin Telephone Company to acquire and take according to law for a telephone right of way and for telephone purposes, rights easements and interests in land over and upon Bluff street, West Bridge street and Cross street in the city of Beloit, county of Rock, and state of Wisconsin.

Present Hon. B. F. DUNWIDDIE, Judge of said Circuit for Rock County.

Upon satisfactory proof that the petition of the Wisconsin Telephone Company in the above entitled matter to acquire and take according to law, for a telephone right of way and for telephone purposes, rights easements and interests in land over, across and along the northernly side of West Bridge street, beginning with the western boundary of Bluff street on the west and continuing along the northernly side of West Bridge street east to Cross street and over and across said street to the eastern boundary thereof, all in the city of Beloit, county of Rock, and state of Wisconsin, was duly filed in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court for Rock County, which petition was verified on the first day of October, 1901, and the court being duly advised, and upon motion of Miller, Royce & Miller, attorneys for said petitioner,

It is ordered that said petition of the Wisconsin Telephone Company be heard on the 15th day of October, A. D. 1901, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, of as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, before the Circuit Court for Rock County, at the court house in the city of Janesville, County of Rock and State of Wisconsin. It is further ordered that this order be served by its publication once at least ten days before the hearing, in The Janesville Daily Gazette, a newspaper published in said County of Rock and State of Wisconsin.

Dated Janesville, Wis. October 2, 1901.
By the Court,
B. F. DUNWIDDIE,
Circuit Judge.
